

Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has made a tremendous difference in my life. I am a stay-at-home mom and the amount of time that I spend answering phone calls that are, frankly, a waste of my time has been reduced to nearly zero since I requested to be put on the no-call list here in Indiana. My time is very valuable to my family and myself. It is wonderful to not have to lose any of the time that I spend with my children and to not have to stop in the middle of something to answer an unwanted phone call. I know that if there's a phone call, chances are very good that it will be one that won't be a waste of my time. I am asking you not to consider any proposals that would lessen the protection that Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law provides my family and me.
